

Japs Tough and Expect Long War, Returning Americans Say

ABOARD S. S. GRIPSHOLM, AT SEA, August 25—A tradition of centuries, the iron control of the military, long years of individual privation for the empire's good—these things indicate that Japan isn't likely to break or collapse under the pressure of war.

An economic collapse isn't likely. The world's financial and business wizards have been predicting the breakdown of Japan's flimsy structure for years. But trucks and tanks and planes still roll from the factories.

One cold January day in Sugamo Prison, Tokyo, where I was held in solitary confinement until June, one of the officers assigned to my case spent some idle minutes telling me about conditions in Japan. His name was Yamada-San, and back in the first World War days, he was a student at the University of California in Berkeley.

"A little fish," he said, "a little rice. That is all we need to eat. You can't ever starve us out."

This chap's clothing was worn. His overcoat originally had been a blanket.

His socks were patched and darned, his shirt collar was frayed. He was stout-hearted, though, and would never wince at any hardships. That is true of most Japanese.

They are not individuals. They are cogs in a machine. They belong to the emperor, to the empire, and for five years now their lives have been stripped to essentials.

On the other hand, there has been fundamental misconception of America's role in the war. For years the Japanese have had pounded into them—particularly the military classes—the belief that America is a crass, materialistic nation of godless, money-worshipping, pleasure-loving people. Movies have helped the notion. Americans had genius but no spirit. Once America saw that her own short-term selfish ends would be served by an easy way out, she would fold.

But there was always a fear, too, that she might not. Perhaps America could throw the might of her gigantic industrial machine into all-out productivity that Japan, with all her newly-conquered resources, could not possibly match, at least not for decades. Hence, in all papers there have been the repeated warnings from Japanese statesmen and military leaders that the struggle would be long and hard, and that Japanese must gird

BATTLE FOR SOLOMONS RAGES

Meandering Along the Main Stem

An unusual freak of nature, in the way of two large potatoes, is on display on a counter at Craig's store in the men's department.

These potatoes were brought in by Forest McAllister, Route 5, and they might well be called "victory potatoes" as they have grown in bunches, thereby saving baskets and sacks.

One of them has two fair sized knobs on it, placed so that they look almost like two bulbous eyes. The other, which is indeed a queer looking specimen, is quite large in size and has nine knobs attached to it, three of them small, one fair sized, and the other five big.

They may be called "victory potatoes" so far as handling and space is concerned, but I should dislike very much to be the "victim" when it comes to peeling them.

While there has not been a widespread general practice in Washington C. H. and Fayette County of the suggested campaign to "share a ride," since the acute rubber shortage situation, there has been considerable of this cooperation and it would be well if more of us gave more thought to this vital rubber saving idea. And in this connection there is one thing to remember—the fellow who is doing the driving is doing it at a cost. Why not a "share the cost" campaign coupled with the "share the ride" idea? Many workers have made plans whereby drivers with whom they ride are reimbursed for their expense. Why shouldn't everyone who makes a practice of riding with some other person do the same?

"I'm a movie fan," a well known young woman said to me this week, "but I hope I never get so senseless as some of these fans I've been reading about. If I ever get that bad I hope my family or my friends take me out and shoot me."

She then related some of the reports she had read and heard about how movie fans in Hollywood had torn buttons from the clothes of James Stewart when he was inducted, and how fans had literally mobbed Clark Gable as he boarded a train to join the army at Miami Beach.

Well, I'll agree that it is difficult to understand the mental processes of those who entertain. It is likely that most people will show more restraint and balance and treat movie stars like any other soldiers who enter the nation's serious business of preparing for war. This is no time for nonsense on the part of foolish fans.

NEW BATTLESHIP ABOUT COMPLETED

Six Under Construction Are Ahead of Schedule

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The greatest battleship ever wrought by American rivet hammers makes its debut Thursday when the 45,000-ton Iowa is launched.

Heavier by 10,000 tons than any other American man-of-war, the 880-foot battleship will go down the ways at the navy yard in Brooklyn seven months ahead of schedule. Its keel was laid on June 27, 1940.

Five sister-ships—The New Jersey, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois and Kentucky—are being built in other yards.

SOMETHING BIG SCENTED

Meanwhile, China's Armies Make Best of Chances by Seizing Air Bases

(By The Associated Press)

Chinese dispatches said today that Japan's invasion armies were withdrawing from China east coast provinces to prepare "another thrust" elsewhere—possibly an attack on Russian Siberia, India or Australia.

In Chungking, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's war capital, informed quarters agreed that some big-scale revision of Japanese plans had prompted the enemy to yield hard-won territory on Chekiang and Kiangsi provinces.

A Chinese army spokesman said the Japanese were withdrawing between 50,000 and 60,000 troops from the two provinces—about half the original invasion force—and abandoning city after city to Gen. Chiang's armies.

The China Times, appealing to the Allies "not to sit still waiting to be attacked," urging a general United Nations offensive to thwart Japan's new strategy which most observers forecast would develop in an attack on Siberia at Russia's back door.

Chinese headquarters announced the recapture of Linchow (Fuchow), second biggest Japanese base in Kiangsi Province, and said another Chinese force was attacking within 30 miles of Nanchang, main enemy base in the province.

Chinese troops were reported also to have recaptured Juihung, in Kiangsi Province, and to have advanced within six miles of the important Chekiang base of Chusien.

Americans Back Home from Japan Happy To Be Out of Prison Camps

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 25.—(AP)—With a fervid expression of happiness to be once again upon the soil of his "beloved country", veteran ambassador to Tokyo Joseph C. Crew stepped ashore from the diplomatic exchange liner Gripsholm today at head of a procession of 1,451 Americans repatriated from Japan and the Orient.

The ambassador told reporters in a prepared statement how he had awaited the moment of his return to America with "inexpressible anticipation."

A cold, official welcome, minus fluttering handkerchiefs and eager relatives, awaited American diplomats, missionaries, newspapermen and business men aboard.

The 1,451 passengers will be submitted to a thorough examination by agents of the State and Justice Departments, Army and Navy intelligence services and customs, a process which may take several days.

The pier will be closed to the public during the examinations and passengers will be able to greet their relatives only after they have cleared inspection and are permitted to leave the ship.

Government officials said the precautions were being taken to guard against the entry of any spies or other undesirables.

The passengers included 246 American diplomatic and consular officials, headed by Ambassador Joseph C. Crew; 33 United States newspapermen, 1,060 U. S. Na-

MAKIN ATTACKED BY SOLOMON FORCE

Specially Trained Marines Carried Out Raid

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Heavily armed and highly trained Marines, organized into "raider battalions," are battling the Japanese in the Solomon Islands and carried out the August 17 attack on Japanese-held Makin Island in the Gilbert group of the Pacific.

This announcement today by the Marine Corps was the first official disclosure of the existence of the Marine raiders whose equipment and training methods have been closely guarded secrets against the time when they would go into action.

The first known attack of these specially trained devils was in the Solomons offensive beginning August 7. Their second was in their own show at Makin. The Gilbert Island group. Major James Roosevelt, son of the President, was second in command in the Makin attack which damaged installations and killed Japanese defenders.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration announced today a September quota of 35,500 new passenger automobiles for rationing.

The quota will be allotted among the states and the District of Columbia.

YANKS ALL SET FOR ATTACK AND GO TO MEET IT

Jap Carriers, Transports And Warships Blasted By American Fliers

U.S. LOSSES NOT REVEALED

Full Scale Counter Blow Apparently Planned To Retake Island Bases

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The navy announced today that the Japanese have counter-attacked American forces holding the southeastern Solomon Islands and that a great sea and air battle had developed in which the enemy had suffered more than half a dozen ships damaged.

The battle began developing on the afternoon of August 23 and already army and navy carrier-bombed two Japanese carriers, one battleship, one transport, one cruiser, and an unspecified number of other cruisers which the navy described only as "several."

The transport and one cruiser were left burning fiercely after an aircraft attack on them north of Guadalcanal August 24.

American fighters intercepted a strong enemy air force attacking Guadalcanal the previous day and shot down 21 Japanese planes, the navy said, suffering only minor losses themselves.

The main action of the battle, the navy communique indicated, is currently in progress and the navy said that it was "a large scale battle" between American sea and air forces and a strong Japanese striking force which has approached the southeastern group of the Solomon Islands from a northeast direction.

Army and navy units backing up the American Marines in the Solomons had expected a violent attempt by the Japanese to recapture their lost bases in the Tulagi area, and so, the navy said, apparently were fully prepared to meet it.

On this point the navy said, succinctly, "This counter attack has developed and is now being met."

As the navy related the developing battle action, it said that preliminary reports "indicate that the enemy striking force has been attacked by United States Army Flying Fortresses and that our carrier-based naval aircraft are in action."

A large Japanese carrier, the name of which was not given, was attacked by army bombers which reported scoring four hits.

Threat Grows To Stalingrad And Caucasus

Hitler Masses More Men, Tanks and Warplanes To Attempt Knockout Blow Against Russia's Industrial City and Oil Fields — Meanwhile RAF Delivers New Blows at Germany as Prelude To Opening of Second Front as Hinted by Churchill

By ROGER D. GREENE (By The Associated Press)

Masses of German tanks advanced perilously closer to Stalingrad today, forcing the Russians into a new retreat less than 40 miles from the great Volga steel city, while other Nazi columns struck within 85 miles of the Grozny oil fields in the central Caucasus.

The Vichy (French) radio quoted a Berlin spokesman as boasting that "the fate of Stalingrad will be settled before the end of the week."

Front-line dispatches said the Germans had crossed the Don, with large numbers of tanks while dive-bombers swarmed the skies and Nazi paratroopers dropped behind Soviet defense lines with anti-tank guns, trench mortars and motorcycles.

FIRST CHECK SENT TO DEPENDENT OF AMERICAN FIGHTER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—A check for $184, representing the first payment made under the servicemen's allotment and allowance act, was on its way from the navy today to Mrs. Ruby Williams Whitfield, of Picayune, Miss.

Altogether checks totaling $17,435.80, of which $10,053.45 was contributed by the government and the rest deducted from the men's pay, were issued to dependents of enlisted men in 35 states.

Mrs. Whitfield, wife of Fred Worth Whitfield, Seaman first class, received the largest single amount for the June-July period. The Whitfields have four children.

INCOME TAX CREDIT PLAN IS CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—A treasury proposal that would permit individuals to take an income tax credit of up to $250 for payments on old debts, life insurance premiums or for investments in government bonds awaited action by the senate finance committee today.

While declining to discuss details of the proposals, Chairman George (D-Ga.) said the committee would dispose of business before taking up suggestions that the new revenue bill be revised to provide for collection of income taxes on a current basis.

"Action by the Allies at no distance date would appear inevitable."

Significantly, one of the first to greet Churchill was Vice Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, chief of British combined operations, who directed last week's "invasion curtain-raiser" assault on Dieppe, France.

The Prime Minister himself was in buoyant spirits on returning from his 14,000-mile journey to the Kremlin via the Middle East.

"Mr. Stalin and I have exchanged views which will be of utmost value of the Allied cause," he said.

Today Mr. Churchill conferred with war cabinet colleagues on secret plans he brought home from Moscow, and the feeling grew in London that spectacular developments might soon follow.

Disclosure that he visited Iran (Persia) and Iraq as well as Egypt on his three-week journey suggested that the Middle East, now threatened by a gigantic Nazi pincer movement from the Caucasus and Egypt, would play an important role in forthcoming operations.

During the night, the RAF's big offensive to scourge Germany city-by-city struck in force at the Rhineland war centers of Frankfurt and Wiesbaden. Sixteen RAF bombers failed to return, indicating that perhaps 300 planes took part in the raid.

Fall of Stalingrad Would Bring War Closer To American Homes

By DE WITT MACKENZIE (Wide World News Service)

With the onrushing Hitlerites less than forty miles from the great industrial city of Stalingrad on the Volga, this war is getting terribly close to our own homes and firesides.

What happens within the next six or eight weeks is likely to determine the course of the whole conflict. That's how near it's drawing to us here in America.

I don't mean the fall of Stalingrad would be decisive, for it wouldn't. Still, it would be a mighty blow against the Soviet, since the city is an integral part of her military and economic defense. Its capture would mean the cutting of the expansive Volga, that artery of transport which links the Caucasus to North Russia. The fall of Stalingrad would make much more difficult the defense of that all-important Caucasus where the Nazis also continue to force the gallantly resisting Reds back.

The bloody drama of Stalingrad stands out starkly and seems to re-emphasize the fact that we in America haven't yet got the "feel" of this conflagration on which our survival as a nation depends. Maybe more detailed accounts of our own fighting men in action would bring us closer to realities and build morale.

Of course, we haven't got into action on a big scale yet, but we have a lot of men in battle in various parts of the world. What we folk back home need is to be moved right into the middle of the conflicts with them—fight along side them, bleed with them, and die with them.

That would bring realization of our dangers, of the sacrifices our boys are making, of the other sacrifices needed from us, and it is a grand breeder of the fighting spirit.

Example: The other night a Jap force landed on one of the Solomons and tried to overcome our marines. A communique told us that "during the night only hand-to-hand fighting was possible," but with the daybreak the marines were able to maneuver, and "of the 700 Japanese, 670 are dead, the rest prisoners. Marine losses were 28 killed and 72 wounded."

That's all we know about this historic action. Presumably the authorities haven't any more facts to give us yet, but my point is that this is the type of story which might be pressed for and given to the public in full detail while it's hot. Sure, I know all about censorship—worked under 'em in war and revolution in many countries—but the fact remains that such actions can be reported graphically and fully enough without disclosing anything which would assist the enemy.

Then there's another aspect to this situation. Quite apart from the value of such publication as a morale builder, the public is entitled to all the information which possibly can be provided. They tell us that this is a people's war—and that's right.

and would fight to win his freedom.

"From the moment I saw him in court again, all my love for him came back and now I'll fight my hardest for him," she said.

Bahr's court-appointed counsel, Frederic M. P. Pearce, announced he would appeal the verdict.

Bahr testified he had accepted espionage training by the Nazi Gestapo only because he wanted to get back to the United States.

PLANS DRAFTED BY COUNTY GOP FOR CAMPAIGN

Committees Organized and Officers Named; Mrs. Edgar Snyder To Head Women

Organization in preparation for the coming campaign for the general election November 3, was effected at a called meeting of the Fayette County Republican Central Committee Monday night.

The central committee elected at the August primaries by the Republicans from each ward of Washington C. H. and each township in the county, first choose officers for the county central committee as follows: Eugene McLean, Jasper Township, chairman; W. E. Sollars, Concord Township, vice-chairman; Roy Thompson, Paint Township, secretary.

The committee then voted to follow the customary procedure of several years past by making the central committee members of the county executive committee plus eight additional Republicans. The executive committee will have complete charge of the coming campaign. The eight men chosen to act with the central committee on this committee were Leroy Carr, Forrest P. Smith, Jess Maddux, J. Kent Hopkins, Ollie Ross and Frank Thatcher of Washington C. H. and C. D. Bush of Jeffersonville and Lee Graham of near Bloomington.

The executive committee was organized formally with the election of the following officers: Leroy Carr, chairman; Glenn B. Rodgers, vice-chairman; J. Kent Hopkins, secretary and treasurer. The selection of a campaign headquarters was undecided and will be announced later.

Women's Chairman Chosen

The executive committee also named Mrs. Edgar Snyder, as chairman of the Fayette County Women's Republican Committee with authority to select her own committeewomen. It was stated that she probably would name at least one Republican woman from each ward of the city and from each township of the county. She was empowered to select a member from each precinct of the county.

The Republican County Central Committee members who also serve on the executive committee are as follows: Washington, first ward, Glenn M. Pine; second ward, Orland Hays; third ward, Glenn B. Rodgers; fourth ward, Charles Hire; Concord twp., Walter Sollars; Jasper, Eugene McLean; Jefferson, Warren Williams; Green, Warren Patton; Madison, Howard Grim; Marion, Cade Vincent; Paint, Roy Thompson; Perry, Harley McCoppin; Union, Virgil Perrill; Washington, Carl Mallow; Wayne, C. W. Perry.

It is understood that the Fayette County Democratic Central Committee will meet within the next few days to organize. This committee is larger since a central committeeman from each precinct of the county was chosen by Democratic voters at the August primaries.

100-ACRE FARM SOLD BY COURT FOR $8,300

Farm land comprising 100.33 acres near Pleasant View in northern Fayette County and bringing a price of $8,300, was purchased by A. Jenks at a sheriff's sale Monday afternoon.

The sale was the result of a partition suit filed by Guy H. Gordon against Flora Johnson, et al, over the farm land left by Amy F. Shifflette, deceased.

Attorney Stanley W. Paxson represented Gordon.

VICTORY PARADE AT SABINA TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY

Program To Stimulate Sale Of War Bonds Arranged Plane Flight Planned

The people of Sabina today were putting the finishing touches on their Victory Parade scheduled for Friday at 4 P. M. in the interest of the sale of War Stamps and Bonds.

The committee announced that Governor John W. Bricker, the state defense staff, and the Clinton County war savings chairman were all contributing special effort to make the event a success.

The parade will begin at 4 P. M. and will be in charge of the State Highway Patrol with Clint Pavey acting as marshal. It will include horseback riders, carts, bicycles, ponies, decorated trailers, kiddie cars, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Cub Scouts, girls selling war stamps, Dayton Power & Light Co., fire department, Farm Bureau, elevator men, Granges, clubs in decorated cars and many others. All the Village's citizens have been invited to attend the parade. The entry fee is a 10 cent war savings stamp. There will be a booth for the sales of stamps and bonds.

It was also announced that a fleet of airplanes will circle the parade about 4:30 P. M.

The guest speaker of the day will be Mr. Emory Glander, Governor John Bricker's executive secretary. Other talent on the program will be two radio singers from WLW, Miss Dorothy McVitty, and Joe Starkey, the latter a cowboy singer.

Adjoining communities, including Washington C. H., are cooperating.

A delegation from Washington C. H. is expected to make the trip to Sabina. F. E. Hill, manager of the Dayton Power & Light Co., is expected to lead a group to Sabina, a member of the committee announced.

Members of the committee are Milburn A. Gire, Harry Erick, Roger Littleton, Mrs. H. H. Griffith, Frank Spurgeon, Charles Shown, Clarence Chance and others.

OVERLOADING CAUSES LARGE SILO TO FALL

A silo on the Clifford Hughes farm on the White road toppled over in the early morning hours Tuesday as a result of overloading.

In the fall it hit two ensilage cutters and a tractor, completely burying them in the ground. It was estimated that considerable damage was done, although no appraising has been done as yet.

There were over 1000 tons of ensilage in the silo, it was stated, and they are hoping to salvage as much of it as possible, but do not expect to try to rebuild it at the present, it was said.

Scrap Metal Campaign Now Under Way in City

Although most of the emphasis in the current scrap metal campaign has been placed on collections in the rural sections of Fayette County, Maynard Craig, who has undertaken the task of coordinating the efforts, said that arrangements had just been completed to give the people living in Washington C. H. an opportunity to do their part, too.

Starting "as of right now", Craig declared trucks would come and pick up scrap metal any place in the city on a call to the City Hall (phone 33151). He explained, however, that while "every little piece is wanted," he hoped that neighbors would pool their scrap if the individual lots amounted to less than 25 pounds.

Craig acknowledged that not a great deal of scrap was expected from the city for two reasons: (1) Junk does not usually collect around city homes as it does on the farms and (2) previous salvage campaigns, especially those sparked by the school children periodically last winter, had cleaned up nearly everything that was loose. However, he said, so many city residents had said they would like to add their bit to the war scrap pile that arrangements had been made to give them the opportunity to do it with a minimum of trouble.

It was made plain that no payment would be made for the scrap collected by the trucks. But, he said he hoped this would not slow down the collection. Junk yards in the city are buying scrap metal on a fixed scale of prices, he pointed out and added that "it doesn't make any difference whether a truck calls for it or it is sold to a junk yard so long as it gets into channels that will take it to the war plants." The filling stations also will take the scrap themselves for a hundred years of warfare if necessary.

Japan's war years with China have made her lean and hard and ready. The ruthless knife of the military has pruned the useless branches of normal life long ago.

Rice and sugar and charcoal were rationed even before the war with the United Nations. Since then clothing has been sold only on the ticket system. Even fish is hard to buy on the Tokyo market.

There were just as many fish in the ocean but fishing took gasoline, and gasoline was precious.

The fishing boats are going out again now, but they are charcoal burners, sluggish and slow. And there are no warships for protection.

When war with the West came to the empire, there was frantic dragging out of blackout curtains and pinning them in place. Street lights were dimmed or turned off.

At the concentration camp, blackout curtains were kept tightly pinned throughout the first months. The police and the populace had read speeches by Colonel Knox and Senator Pepper. Despite assurances from the military that Japan was invulnerable, they were afraid.

The widespread, all-out thrusts were as necessary for Japan's morale as for her military strategy. The breath-taking sweep and successes of Japan's operations gave her people a lift, kindled feelings of pride.

It was the ancient, deep-rooted pride of the Samurai warrior in the knowledge that he is pitted against a worthier foe than ever before.

This was evident in the ringing confident voices and patronizing air of the police officers who watched the prisoners at Sumiro Jogakkuin. The Gaimusho smart-alecks who moved into the English language Times-Advertiser were cocksure of the outcome. The crowds in Hibiya Park celebrating the fall of Singapore were fanatics. Thousands of homes flew the national flag on "Singapore Day," convinced Japan's lordship of the Orient had been established.

The emperor began to draw more attention than before. Crowds in movie theaters removed their hats and bowed when Hirohito appeared in newsreels.

After what has happened, to hear some of the newspaper executives, Japan cannot be touched. She now has the rubber, the oil, the tin, the gold that once made America and Britain great. The tables, so they feel, have been reversed and now Japan is a have-nation while the Allies have become the have-nots.

There was pride but also an apology in the line of another news executive.

"Roosevelt is responsible for this war," he said, "he forced Japan into it."

"But Japan did not attack America. America attacked Japan last July when Roosevelt put in the freezing order."

In this he was voicing something frequently seen in the Japanese Press. They feel that the way the war started wasn't the way of a true Samurai knight. Many Japanese individuals have voiced the same idea. So the government's official answer is that Pearl Harbor was only a "counter-attack."

Japan has come to her death struggle with the United Nations fortified by desperation. The empire has been turned over, for the time being at least, to the armed forces. But no attempt is being made to fool the docile millions that victory will come easily.

Day after day the high command hammers home this thesis: the war will be long and bitter; it will be hard. What has been won must now be held; it must be developed and that takes time and men.

FARM WORKERS AND DOMESTIC HELP IS NEEDED

Employment Office Here Has More Jobs To Be Filled Than Workers To Fill Them

With demands for many types of workers in Fayette County far exceeding the number of people available on the records of the U. S. Employment Service here, Charles W. Dunton, manager of the office, states that while this condition is to be expected during war times, not all classifications of labor are short.

Calls for skilled craftsmen, farm labor and domestic help are exceedingly hard to fill, Dunton reports, but his office lists indicate many common laborers who can be secured.

Manager Dunton urges that all people who are needing positions of any kind should immediately apply at the unemployment office as there are calls every day for help in many different kinds of work.

Employers also are asked to feel free to call upon the office for aid as this service is intended to be a "clearing house" to help solve all such problems. The unemployment office does not enter into any wage negotiations, Dunton made clear, as contracts for wages or salaries are matters which are left between the applicant and the employer. It is the object of this office's service merely to get unemployed people who desire work and those who need help, together.

Just now every working man in the county is being classified as to occupation or ability to do other lines of work than what he is now doing. Information for these classifications is being secured from the selective service questionnaires. The object of this extensive line of extra clerical work under which the unemployment office is now almost buried, is to be able to help fill calls from many places, especially defense industries, for skilled or other labor. Oftentimes, as Dunton pointed out, some worker may be employed in a non-critical job who is skilled in certain lines of work such as welding or machinist. When calls come for men fitted for such work, the office here seeks to get into contact with the worker to acquaint him with the opportunity.

Dunton again called attention to the fact that barriers facing many workers here and elsewhere, who have been unable to obtain jobs with war contractors because of inability to produce birth certificates, have been removed by a recent act of congress. No defense contractor should now deny employment for failure to produce such certificates to any person who submits an honorable discharge or certificate from the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard unless the discharge certificate shows that the person may have been alien at the time of its issuance.

ONLY GRASS FIRES HERE DURING MONTH

Cold Furnaces and Stoves Given Credit

This has been a "very good" month for the Fire Department, it was stated there today.

Aside from two small grass fires at 1104 Clinton Avenue and at 1030 Washington Avenue, which were quickly put out with no damage resulting, the last real run was made on July 27, nearly a month ago, to the Ruth White Sexton property at 627 North North Street. Damage here was estimated at around $25.

The department stated that this is not unusual during the summer months when the rainfall is plentiful, it also being due to the fact that stoves have generally been taken down for the summer, which keeps fires to a minimum.

There have been periods of a full month, it was stated, when the department has not been called out at all, but this has occurred only during June or July or August.

EXTORTIONIST IS CAUGHT COLLECTING HIS PAYOFF

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A 21-year-old man suspected of writing threatening letters in an effort to obtain $5,000 from a Cleveland theater manager was shot and slightly wounded by police today.

Detectives Peter Merylo and Clarence Kiefer were waiting in ambush as the man appeared at a spot where a dummy package had been planted. The suspect was grabbed and received a flesh wound in the leg from a bullet while struggling with detectives.

Emergency health and welfare legislation has been enacted thus far this year by 11 of 14 state legislatures meeting in regular or special session.

THE CAUSES OF INFLATION
In a finely-reasoned editorial the New York Times recently defined the causes of inflation—and pointed to the inevitable disaster that will occur if inflation is not prevented. Here, in part, is what it said: "We have yet to see anyone demonstrate how it is possible to increase wages in the face of a growing scarcity of goods without bringing on inflation . . . Nor have we heard any one contend that inflation is from labor's standpoint a satisfactory means of achieving 'equality of sacrifice.' Yet it is constantly being argued that to restrain wage increases would violate the principle of equality of sacrifice."
"The big executive who seeks to enrich himself out of the war is both foolish and unpatriotic. But his chances of getting away with it are practically nil. The Treasury has announced a policy of disallowing unusual and excessive salaries and bonuses. The new tax bill is calculated to catch the major part of what the Treasury lets by. Under these conditions it is completely misleading to refer to salaries of the magnitude of $275,000 and $357,000 as though those amounts were actually at the disposal of the recipients. In the case of the latter sum, the government will get at least 80 per cent. . ."
"How inflationary are such salaries? The relatively small number and amount involved was strikingly shown by the Treasury's figures with respect to the President's proposal for a ceiling of $25,000 on individual incomes. These showed that only 11,000 individuals and married couples and only $184,000,000 of income would be involved. Contrast this with the inflationary gap of $30,000,000,000 which Secretary Jones says will exist next year between consumer incomes and the supply of goods available. It is absurd to suppose that our inflationary problem could be solved even by taking away every cent of the income of the highest-paid executives . . ."
"As for the question of corporation profits, it is true that in some cases they have increased—before taxes. But again it is misleading to forget the great change being wrought by the tax collector. In the first quarter of this year a representative group of corporations tabulated by the National City Bank showed that in spite of a large gain in gross, net income after taxes was down an average of 25 per cent. . ."
"If inflation comes . . . it will come because the purchasing power of the whole country, flowing out chiefly in the form of higher wages, has increased out of all proportion to the volume of goods and services available. And if inflation comes it will not be the corporations that will be reduced to misery and privation."

Washington at a Glance
By Charles P. Stewart
WASHINGTON — America's total production is ample to meet all of wartime's demands on it. And yet, collectively speaking, there isn't enough of it. This may sound paradoxical, but experts are practically unanimous in agreeing that it's true.
It isn't so mysterious, at that. One industry furnishes supplies of a raw material or some particular gadget, neither of which is of any use by itself, but combined with different raw materials or gadgets provided by a multiplicity of other specializing industries, reveals itself as an essential element in an urgently necessary machine, for war purposes or for civilian requirements to keep war going.
Okay, the raw materials and the various differing gadgets are available up to the limit, each, but they don't get themselves assembled. And separately each one is no good.
Not only is the job of assembling them inadequately attended to, but their respective productions are unbalanced. Assume a demand for some big war engine, into the manufacture of which raw materials and gadgets A, B, C, D, E, F and G enter. The thing won't work without all of them included. Suppose, then, that A, B, C, D, E and F are unlimitedly available. But there's no G. Accordingly nix on that machine.
Such is the existing difficulty. Nelson Is Blamed
It's bad coordination, according to the experts.
Production Manager Donald M. Nelson is rapidly graduating into chief criticism for the situation. Representative John H. Tolan of California is chairman of a congressional committee that's been investigating defense problems and his version is that Donald's been "too much of an umpire and not enough of a boss."
Each industry has its own bug as to its special importance naturally. Frequently two or three of them clash relative to supplies of raw stuff or labor to process it or facilities for its delivery. These disputes are put up to Don Nelson and Jack Tolan's thesis is that Don ought to settle em by a dictatorial order—instead of which, Jack says, Nelson arbitrates.
Representative Tolan's ideal is the organization of American industry on the basis of "one gigantic plant."
It's a plan to which an objection's raised in individualistic quarters.
It rests on the ground that, the war being over finally, industry will be so completely governmentalized that it never'll get back to independence—it'll be run from overhead and workers will be (to put it plainly) "slaves."
An alternative's suggested. It's to the purport that the army, the navy and the air corps ought, each to have final authority, each in its own individual field.
The immediate difficulty is

Flashes of Life

One-Minute Test
1. Who invented false teeth?
2. Can you tell when a mustache caused a workers' strike?
3. Can you fill in the blank in the following quotation: "Eat _____ they feed themselves?"
Words of Wisdom
Principle is a passion for truth and right.—Hazlitt.
Hints on Etiquette
When you shake hands, shake heartily—with your heart in it. Other people are lonely and discouraged, so your greeting is no mere polite gesture, but a real heart warmer.
Today's Horoscope
The person who has a birthday today has a strong, forceful personality. Such a one has good ideas and the judgment to execute them efficiently. He or she has deep feelings but does not show them; a flexible nature and fastidious tastes; is slow in liking people, and will make an early marriage or none. In the next year this person should refuse to be drawn into conflict with elders and those in authority, and should also avoid erratic changes. If these warnings are heeded some good fortune will be experienced. Born on this date, a child will be liable to unexpected obstacles and reversals in business. Strangers and old people will prove trying, but young people will be the reverse.
One-Minute Test Answers
1. The ancient Hebrews who made them of wood, iron and gold for decorative purposes. Not until the 17th century were false teeth made so they could be used for eating.
2. In Paris, in 1907, when waiters struck against the civil law forbidding them to wear mustaches, and won.
3. "Eat fish—they feed themselves."

It will be the workers whose high wages will buy less and less the higher and higher they go.
Inflation would destroy the economy of this country—and inflation could lose the war for us. Price control will be doomed to failure unless definite and aggressive action is taken to limit and absorb the excess purchasing power created by war. We are doing that in the case of executive salaries and industrial income. We are not doing it with wages—and abnormally high wages constitute the strongest inflationary influence of all.
The ultimate consumer now is Old Man Mars. He seems to be getting most of our tea and coffee and some other things we never thought about before.

Football Dangers Not Confined to Players
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
IN MY COLLECTION of newspaper clippings of reports of injuries, deaths, blindness and amputations that resulted from football games last year, I find that not only the players, but the innocent bystander may suffer.
Five referees or officials got too near the fray for comfort last year. I quote from an Ohio news-ing over to tie his shoe lace snapped his spine again.
In other words, football hardens you so that even leaning over to tie your shoe breaks your back.
Doctor Advises Soccer Football
It may be this year that we have enough inevitable trouble with death and maiming of our youth, so that high school and college associations will decide to cancel a football schedules for the season, or even for the duration, which means at least five years. If so, I predict that they will never go back to it. For an autumn athletic open air contest, they could easily substitute soccer football—a good healthy game, interesting to the spectators and a thousand times safer than our ridiculous "game".—American Football.
I welcome the Belleville, Illinois, Dad's Club to the ranks of those who see the dangers. They voted last year to request school authorities not to let any 19-year-old boys play football.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWER
M. R.: Does the gallbladder empty quicker on a full or empty stomach? Do you think a pers having this ailment could drink too much grapefruit juice?
Answer: The gallbladder contains bile and bile is necessary for intestinal digestion. The gallbladder does not empty bile into the intestine until there is food present. Food is the food that causes the strongest reflex emptying of the gallbladder. As soon as the stomach begins to move food on into the intestine the gallbladder begins to empty. Therefore the answer to your question is that the gallbladder empties when the stomach is full. Grapefruit juice has no action, one way or the other, on the gallbladder.

Mark's Wife
by MARIE BLIZARD
WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

SYNOPSIS
"REAR WINTER, former actress, finds herself a widow at 27 when her husband dies. Her only friend in the small town of South Wintridge, where she lives, is . . .
"R. TONY BRADSHAW, a young physician. Owner of the town's only big business is . . .
"JOM KILCRAN, whose daughter, PAMELA, and wife, CLAIRE, are haughty, cold and selfish."
(ESTERDAY, Pamela implies to Tony that Tom Kilcran has been considering construction of such a hospital as Tony had asked.)
CHAPTER SIXTEEN
"DAD CAN always be made to see the light. In fact, I'm rather good at showing it to him," Pamela got up and put her arms into her beaver coat. When she had buttoned it under her chin, she held out her hand. "Nice to see you again, Doctor. When you want to get at Father again, let's talk it over."
Tony didn't want her to go to her. He took the books she was about to pick up. "Look here," he said. "Maybe . . . I mean . . ." and then, to Barbara's complete surprise, he cast an apologetic look in her direction. "Maybe we could talk it over. If you knew how badly we need . . ."
"A week from today," Pamela said, pulling on her angora mittens. "We'll do it then. We have dinner at eight. Come at seven-fifteen and we'll have cocktails—alone."
"Dinner? . . . Oh, yes, sure. Thanks. Do I . . . er . . ."
"No. Just black tie. It'll be a family party. We'll play some bridge."
He picked up his hat and her books. "Can I take these out to your car?"
She nodded, waved carelessly to Barbara and went to the door.
Tony held it open and said, "Barbara, I want to talk to you. I'll be right back."
Pamela was close to him. She lifted her head. "Would you mind giving me a lift? I left my car in the garage for repairs."
Tony looked back at Barbara. "I thought . . . Barbara, I'll come back for you."
Barbara shook her head. "Miss Calder's just arrived with my car. She'll drive me home. Go along, Tony."
Once more Pamela looked up through her long lashes. "That would be sweet. Sure you don't mind?"
Whatever he said, Barbara didn't hear because Ruth Calder came in at that moment, spoke to Tony and closed the door after them. Then she fell into the chair Pamela had vacated. "Well—" she asked.
"All right," Barbara said wearily. "Not more people than I could handle, but it's started. How do you think the place looks?"
"Cozy enough to call home, but I'd leave Buckingham palace for a good strong cup of tea."
"Tea!" Barbara wrote the word in a notebook and slipped it into her pocket. "I'll bring down my tea set tomorrow and serve tea, toast and Mrs. Alwyn's ginger marmalade on cold afternoons."
"And that's where your little profits will go."
Barbara shook her head wisely. "I read a book on merchandising which says that you have to create an atmosphere and at spheres create the desire to . . . well, anyway, it will bring people in and then they'll just naturally want to buy. I'll talk books to them for presents, and owning their own libraries and everything will be wonderful." She took the notebook out and wrote two more words. "I must get little lolly-pops for the children and peppermints for the old people."
"You might try bank night and sets of dishes."
"I might. In the meantime, I must have Mrs. Alwyn make me some more of that marmalade. She's the only one who has the recipe."
"You'd better hoard your profits."
"It won't cost much. The poor old thing is 80 and she hasn't a penny in her pocket. 'Bread on the waters,' you know. . . . Come along, Ruth. I'll let you carry the day's receipts." She took a lonely dime out of the cash box.
"You'll never send the boy to college on this, my dear."
"I shall be rich by that time," Barbara told her gaily, and went to get her coat.
"You ought to be married and have more children at this time," Barbara came back with her coat on and snapped off the light over her desk. "Speaking of such matters, don't you think Tony and the Kilcran girl make an attractive couple?"
The nurse gave her a short glance. "Not particularly. She's pretty enough, but hardly the right sort of girl for a bright, ambitious boy like Tony. He's a good doctor, a good friend and—" she paused and said meaningfully—"someday he'll make a good husband."

War Pipeline Saver Sits on Top of Pole
By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Wide World News Service)
NEW YORK—Metal robots, which sit on poles five feet above the ground, and protect oil and gas pipelines against rust, are joining the national effort to ease fuel rationing.
There may be only one robot per mile, and it may be a mile from the nearest pipe line, but in that area no pipe rust forms.
America has 420,000 miles of pipe lines, with more now building to rush gasoline and fuel oil to the east. National rationing prospects appear to depend in part on the efficiency of the lines. In the past rust has been a terrific handicap in some places.
The rust boxes, the result of 10 years experiments, have shown their efficiency in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and northern Florida for the United Gas Pipe Line Company and in Montana for the Montana Power Co. Millions of dollars worth of them are going up on poles in other parts of the nation to protect underground iron and steel.
They were developed by engineers of Ebasco Services Incorporated, a research organization of Electric Bond and Share Company. The Ebasco engineer's report was made public recently.
A new idea of the cause of rust is the basis of the robot. Experts hitherto have considered rust simply by the textbook definition of oxygen reacting with metal. But the Ebasco engineers say rust is caused by electrolysis, that is, a flow of electricity, which carries particles of metal (tons of metal) with it. In proof, they point to pipe lines which used to rust; but where there has been no particle of rust since the robots went to work.
The robots merely stop electrolysis, nothing more. In underground metal, there is always likely to be electrolysis, due to earth currents. Always these currents flow outward from the metal into the earth.
One ampere of this current will carry away metal at the rate of 20 pounds a year. In pipelines the amperages vary widely, but the rate of loss of metal never changes.
The robots stop all this merely by reversing the direction of flow of earth currents—so that they go into the pipe instead of out. Each robot is a metal box about the size of a small suitcase. Its interior is a rectifier—an apparatus which changes alternating into direct current.
The power lines feed the robots the standard alternating current, they change it into direct, which is the kind of electricity that flows in the earth.
The robot feeds a little of this direct current into a mass of iron buried in earth near the robot's foot. A fine wire runs from the robot directly to the pipeline. The result is that currents of electricity run through the earth from the mass of iron to the pipeline, and then back to the robot.
The buried iron mass then does the rusting, as the current toward the pipeline carries away the metal tons. This loss is so rapid that the Ebasco engineers are experimenting with chemicals to substitute for the buried iron.
If the robot is close to the pipeline, the buried iron is a 20-foot length of railroad rail, set vertically, all underground. If the robot is a mile away, the mass of iron is much larger.
The engineers say the robots offer a big saving in expenses. Reconditioning from rust runs from $5,000 to $10,000 a mile, while the robots cost $1500 to $2000 for the same distance for pipes 8 to 16 inches in diameter.

EVERYBODY EVERY PAY DAY 10% OF WAGES IN WAR BONDS

Fair Enough!

IT'S LIKE PUTTING MONEY IN THE BANK!

5 REASONS WHY

- ① By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.
- ② You prove that you are a patriotic American.
- ③ You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
- ④ You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
- ⑤ You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.

"Listen, mister... I'm making pretty good wages these days, and so are about fifty million others. And we all think pretty much the same about the way we can help America win the war.

"Save 10% in War Bonds every payday? That's no sacrifice—it's a cinch! Like putting money in the bank.

*"Take my wife, for instance. She says it's money we just wouldn't save, otherwise—dough that we just chuck away—with nothing to show for it later.*

"But this is the real payoff—

"The money we save in War Bonds is going to produce the planes, the tanks, the ships and the guns to make the Japs wish they'd never even seen Pearl Harbor! It's going to produce the bombs and the bullets to make their honorable 'harakiri' seem like a picnic.

"Do you think we people on the home front want to be left out? Don't you know that the workers, the stenos, the farmers, dentists—every last man and woman of us wants to come through with his share?

*"So when they came around in our plant and actually offered to help us save for the War Bonds, you can bet we all said 'yes!'*

"Every week they save 10% out of our pay—a dime in every dollar—and when it adds up to $18.75, we get a War Bond—worth $25 in ten years. Yes—sir! A War Bond in our own name, or the Missus, or both!

*"Honest, now, do you think we're patting ourselves on the back? Do you think we're asking for praise just because we do our part to hamstring Hirohito and Hitler—and lay away a pile of dough in the bargain?*

*"How about you? Are you in on this plan? If not, better get in. Better save your 10% every payday. Better do your share to wallop the tar out of the Japs and Huns.*

"Say 'sure!' when they come to you...

"It's like money in the bank!"

Ray of Hope for High School Sport Continuance

School officials in both Washington C. H. and Fayette County, who have been wondering just what plans to make for their school's athletic programs for the coming months in view of the war and tire and automobile rationing, today had something to think about.

Neither A. B. Murray, superintendent of the city schools, and W. J. Hilty, superintendent of the county schools, had made any secret of their concern and uncertainty as to the future. Word had been passed along the line that school buses should not be used in any of the extra-curricular activities. There had been no direct orders, however, except through implication that buses used for anything except pupil transportation would not get any more tires when those on the wheels were out.

While the distances traveled by the schools' athletic teams are not great, school heads admitted that the possibility of abandonment of inter-school sports for the duration of the war had been seriously considered.

However, comes word from Rep. Walter (D., Pa.) in the nation's capital to school authorities that they might as well stand pat for the time being—he sees a ray of hope.

Scores of smaller high schools, including several in his home district of Northampton and Carbon counties, Pa., were about to call off grid contests because of rulings against the use of buses to take students to athletic events, he said, adding:

"I consulted Joseph B. Eastman, defense transportation coordinator, and was informed that schools which have buses of their own may carry their players to games."

"That makes quite a difference, and in my district the schools are changing their minds about dropping their road games."

"Football players make up our greatest pool of future air fighters and gunners, because they have developed the competitive spirit," said Walter, himself a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve and a naval flyer in World War One.

"To wipe out this season in any considerable number of schools would be a severe blow to our armed forces, and I don't think it will be necessary on many cases in view of this new interpretation."

Eastman's ODT already has ruled that buses may not be chartered to carry either players or spectators to sports events, but Walter explains that does not apply to buses already owned by the schools.

The Office of Defense Transportation

tion occurred in Walter's statement that school-owned buses, as differentiated from chartered vehicles, could be used. ODT pointed out, however, that bus operators in applying for new equipment or replacements must obtain approval of the chief state school official, who may rule that such use of the vehicle added to its deterioration and was "out" for the reason.

Xenia Golfers Trounced In Inter-City Match Here

The Washington C. H. inter-city golf team today was feeling pretty cocky with the third victory in as many matches under their collective belt.

Xenia's golfers were their latest victims by a score of 22½ to 7½.

Paced by the club pro, Tony Capuano who shot two under par for a 70 on 18 holes, not one member of the WCH team failed to add something to the total score. Capuano, Stanley Hagerty, with a 77 and F. E. Hill, with a 93, each made clean sweeps of their matches and rung up three points. Although Ronnie Cornwell turned in a card of 73, just one over par, he could get but 2½ points from his opponent, John Ball, who had a 77.

Previously this season the WCH team took a victory in the match at London and trounced a team from Chillicothe when it came here for a Sunday match.

Here are the scores of the Xenia match:

-Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—What difference does it make if the Yankees are nine games in front and the Dodgers 6½, did you ever see such a race as they're having in the American Association?

... The standings (as of yesterday) show only six games from first-place Milwaukee to seventh-place Indianapolis. ... Count out league-leading Newark, and the international is almost as close—five games from second to seventh. ... They're still hustling for a piece of the playoff change in several other minor leagues, too. ... Sidelight of a great athlete: When Babe Ruth was dressing after his first workout in years at the Yankee Stadium, Red Ruffing glanced over at the Babe, surrounded by admiring younger Yankees, and remarked, "Look at the guy; he still hangs up his uniform." ... No extra work for the clubhouse boy when the Babe's around.

The Best Policy

Note of refreshing frankness in a football handout from Texas College of Mines: "One reason that 'Sugar' Evans may be one of the best fullbacks in the border conference is that so many good ones are in the armed service."

Today's Guest Star

Troy Gordon, Coffeyville (Kas.) Journal: "The Kansas State Horseshoe Pitching Tournament will be conducted at Wichita early in September. Looks like, conditions being what they are, contestants, instead of driving to the tourney in motor cars and pitching horseshoes, should ride horses to the meet and throw tires."

Skidding Reds Face Giants On Home Lot

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25—(AP)—About the only way the Cincinnati Reds could convince anyone they'll finish where they spent most of the season—in third place—would be to make a clean sweep of the three-game series opening here today with the New York Giants.

The Reds trail New York by five games as they open their longest and last extended home stand of 16 games.

Below the .500 percentage mark for the first time since June, the Reds have lost 11 of their last 12 games. Elmer Riddle was the overnight choice to break the spell against Bill Lohman.

It didn't count against them in the league records, but the Reds were handed their third straight shutout yesterday 8-0 at Great Lakes, Ill., by Mickey Cochrane's Naval Training Station team.

Russ Meers, former hurler with Milwaukee of the American Association, limited Cincinnati to five hits while the Sailors punched Clyde Shoun for seven hits and five runs in the first frame and made eight more safeties and three more runs off him in the next seven.

Light's Dairymen Swamp Cudahy Packers in Second Game of Evening

In one of the two softball games played at Wilson Field Monday night, Homer Davis, the Church of Christ's pitcher, pitched a one-hit shutout against the Presbyterians, the leaders of the Church League. The final score was Church of Christ, 5, and Presbyterians, 0.

The Church of Christ got two runs and two hits in the first inning to give them a good lead. In the third inning they sent another two runs across the plate and got their fifth run in the fourth inning. Paul Steele of the Presbyterians got the only hit for his team.

Davis of the Church of Christ was the good hitter of the game with two for three.

Dairymen Win

In the second game of the evening between Light's Dairy and Cudahy, the Dairymen started off the scoring with six runs in the first inning. In the third inning they started another big rally and before they could be stopped they had added on nine more runs to give them fifteen. In the fourth inning Cudahy's had their time to score and sent two runs home. They got another two in the fifth also. The Dairymen got three more runs in the fifth and the score stood 18 to 3. Light's got two more runs in the sixth to give them their final number of twenty while the Packers got four in the seventh to give them their final number of 8.

The hitters of the second game were Andrews of Light's with four for five and Shadley of Light's with three for four.

Two games will be played Tuesday night at Wilson Field, the first, between Albers and the Fayette Grange, will begin at 8 P. M. and the second, between the Selden Grange and the Fayette Grange, will begin about 9:30 P. M. The second game is one postponed from Friday evening, August 7.

Londoners Returning

The London golfers are to come to the Country Club for a return match Wednesday.

These two teams have been battling for a trophy, emblematic of the championship, for several seasons and now the WCH team has a chance to win it for keeps.

So, word is being passed around urging "everyone be out to beat London and win the cup."

BREWERS TIGHTEN GRIP ON AA LEAD WITH WIN WHILE RED BIRDS LOSE

(By The Associated Press)

The Milwaukee Brewers have increased the pressure on the rest of the American Association teams by extending their lead to a game and a half.

As expected, Milwaukee defeated last-place St. Paul last night, while Kansas City made a big bid for second position by whipping Minneapolis as Columbus faltered by losing to Indianapolis.

These results shifted the percentages this way.

Club	W	L	Pct.
Milwaukee	74	62	.544
Columbus	73	64	.533
Kansas City	74	65	.532

The Blues shattered the Millers, 10 to 4. Indianapolis pulled into a tie for sixth place with Minneapolis at the .500 mark by tripping Columbus, 5 to 4. Milwaukee crushed St. Paul, 8 to 6, and Louisville whipped the Toledo Mud Hens, 4 to 3, by scoring in the last half of the ninth after Toledo had squared the game 3-all in its half.

For every dollar spent on defense in 1938-39, Britain is spending $16 in 1942.

Horses from Here Win Two Races at Greenville Fair

Although the horses that raced at the Fair here are now beginning to scatter, many of them are still trying to settle their old arguments this week at Greenville where the Darke County Fair is being held.

Camila Ce Sar, trained here by O. H. (Spec) Erskin and driven by that veteran reinsman, was third in the opening heat of the 2:26 trot Monday, won the second canto and then was drawn. Camila Ce Sar won the first heat of the 2:19 trot at the Fayette County Fair and was out of the money from there on until she won her race at Troy last week.

Dearie owned by the Kirk brothers of Washington C. H. and driven by Ernie Smith who trained here also, could do no better than seventh in the first heat of the 2:26 pace at Greenville Monday but came back strong to place in the second.

Red Abbe, trained by Virgil Willis, a Washington C. H. trainer, on the Fairground track here and then sold to Dr. Paul Bernard of Sabina, divided honors with Equity Girl in the 2:26 pace at Greenville. Red Abbe was third in the first heat and won the second and Equity Girl, which won the opener, was soundly beaten

In addition to this damage, the navy said that "several enemy cruisers and a battleship also have been hit by our carrier planes." The navy referred to "our occupation of the important enemy base at Tulagi," suggesting that Tulagi harbor itself may have been completely captured by American forces. In the preliminary phases of the battle on August 23, the navy related, a "strong enemy air attack" was made against Guadalcanal Island but intercepted by American fighters and 21 enemy planes were shot down with only "minor" losses for the Americans. That night enemy destroyers approached Guadalcanal and shelled shore positions. The following day United States aircraft hit the enemy transport and the cruiser north of Guadalcanal. To its account of what has happened so far the navy added the brief remark, "The action continues." There was no indication in the navy communique as to where the Japanese force came from in its approach to the Solomon's battle area in the South Pacific. AUCTION SALE Hettesheimer Jewelry Stock and Store Fixtures Will Be Held at 218 E. MARKETS AT A GLANCE CHICAGO WHEAT—Closed 1/4-1/8c higher on short covering in light trade. CORN—Rose late in session with wheat. HOGS—Less active; steady; top $15.10. CATTLE—Closed very active and strong to a shade higher on steers, yearlings. NEW YORK STOCKS—Lower; leaders in slow decline. BONDS—Irregularly lower; some rails resist. GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(P)—Grain futures worked higher in light trading today as some short covering and a little new buying entered the market. There was nothing in the run of news of immediate market influence, but the absence of hedging pressure was viewed as a constructive sign. Traders said that outside interest remained unusually light. Demand for flour was reported as slow. Oats were under pressure early, the May future dipping to a new seasonal low, but rallied toward the close under the leadership of wheat and corn. Movement of oats in the northwest continued heavy, but reports from Minneapolis indicated a good demand for arrivals there. Wheat and corn closed on the day's highs. Wheat finished up 1/4-1/8c, Sept. 1.17 1/4-1.18, Dec. 1.21 1/4-1.21 1/2c, and corn was ahead 1/2-3/4c and soybeans were unchanged to 1/4c higher. GRAIN CLOSE CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(P)—WHEAT: Dec. 1.21 1/4-1/4; May 1.25 1/4-1/4. CORN: Dec. 86 1/2-5/8c; May 90 1/2-3/4c. OATS: Dec. 50 1/4c; May 52 1/2-52 3/4c. SOYBEANS: Oct. 1.71 1/4; Dec. 1.71 1/4. RYE: Dec. 65 1/2c; May 71 1/4c. TOLEDO GRAIN TOLEDO, Aug. 25.—(P)—Grain on track (nominal)—basis 27 cent rate New York. Wheat: No. 2 red 1.25-1.26. Corn: No. 2 yellow 84 1/2-85 1/2c. Oats: No. 2 white 49 1/2-50 1/2c; No. 3 white 46 1/2-49 1/2c. Soybeans: No. 2 yellow 1.71-1.71 1/4. Hay: Timothy, No. 1, 11.00. Clover, No. 1, 10.00. Baled alfalfa, No. 1, first cutting, 10.00; No. 1, second cutting, 12.00. Straw: Wheat, 9.00; oat, 6.00. however, that it might have been concentrated at Truk Island in the Caroline group which lies northwest of the Solomons and from there had approached the Solomons in a wide sweeping maneuver characteristic of naval actions. Truk is one of Japan's greatest naval bases and is only about 1,000 miles from the Solomons. However, the Japanese have other large bases in their mandated islands and might have concentrated the Solomons attack force at any one or more of them. While the course of the battle for victory or defeat could not be judged in the absence of information about damage to American units, preliminary estimates here were that the Japanese were being hard hit where they could be hurt most, that is, in their aircraft carrier strength. CINCINNATI PRODUCE CINCINNATI, Aug. 25.—(P)—Butter (tub lots): Creamery as to score, 43-44c; butterfat, premium 38c; regular 36c. DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(P)—The war news today received the principal blame for a moderately unsettled stock market. Potential buyers stood aside or lightened commitments, brokers said, as bulletins told of the precarious position of the Russian forces at Stalingrad and in the Caucasus. Word of a big new air battle in the Solomons also inspired a little speculative caution. Hesitancy ruled and, while dealings were relatively slow, declines of fractions to more than a point predominated. There were scattered spots of resistance but these usually were inactive. Helping chill bullish sentiment to some extent was the persistent thought that the administration was preparing a strong anti-inflation drive. TREASURY REPORT WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(P)—The position of the treasury August 22. RIDING ON RIM IS INCREASING

Cars With No Spares Are Being Laid Up for the Duration

During recent weeks there has been an increased number of automobiles, apparently with no spare tire and no means of obtaining one, passing along the street with one wheel running on the rim as the driver is homeward bound to store his car for the duration. This situation is expected to grow more acute as the months advance and tires on hands give way and can not be used again. A remarkably large number of cars have no spare tires, so that

Boy, 5, Killed When He Dashes in Front of Car

CLAUDE CLAYTOR IS CLEARED OF TRAGEDY BLAME

Accident Occurs in Front Of Home in Waterloo Late Monday

Little Maynard Gerald (Johnny) Platt, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Platt, was killed when he broke away from his four playmates and dashed in front of an Essex coupe driven by Claude Claytor late Monday evening.

The five boys—Ronald 10 and Eddie 7, Johnny's brothers, and Dale Williams 9, and Joe Williams 7—were playing in the yard of the Platt home at the southern edge of Waterloo, as Claytor drove comparatively slowly into the village, Sheriff W. H. Icenhower, who investigated the tragedy, said he was told by eyewitnesses. The four older boys grabbed the little fellow when they saw the approaching car, but he broke away and dashed into its path—to his death—while the others looked on helplessly.

Claytor, who lives on the Fitzgerald farm and works for W. B. Ford, was driving into Waterloo with his wife, Eunice, and two children, 7 and 3 years old. It was said by the sheriff that he probably would not be held responsible or any charges made as Claytor was reported only driving about 20 miles an hour when the boy dashed in front of the car.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the Church of Christ in Waterloo, and burial made in the Waterloo Cemetery. Friends may call at the home in Waterloo any time after Tuesday afternoon. The Hook Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements. Aside from his parents and brothers, Johnny is survived by his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Platt, of Salmon, Idaho, and on his mother's side, by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hines of Rock Mills.

TRUCK DRIVER FINED AS RESULT OF CRASH

Failure of Breaks Blamed for 'Reckless Driving'

As a result of the motor car accident on the Three C Highway near Madison Mills last Tuesday in which an Albers truck, a Greyhound bus and a Wilson truck were involved and in which the Greyhound bus was slightly damaged, J. E. Thornhill, a driver of the Albers truck was fined $20 and costs in police court when a hearing was held later in the week, on a charge of reckless operation of a motor vehicle. Thornhill asserted his brakes had failed to work when he applied them and to avoid hitting another truck he had rolled to the opposite side of the highway.

ST. PAUL'S LIFE TO BE DEPICTED AT SABINA MEET

Third of Sunday Evening Services Planned for Camp Grounds

"The Life of St. Paul," a moving picture exhibited through arrangement with the Ohio Council of Churches and Religious Education, will feature the program next Sunday evening at the Sabina Conference Grounds, Rev. H. O. Secoy, pastor of the Sabina Methodist Church, has announced.

This will be the third in a series of Sunday evening meetings which have been largely attended at the Conference Grounds.

The meeting will open with a brief concert of sacred and classical selections played by the Sunday School orchestra from the Wilmington Methodist Church, and the picture which follows depicts three episodes in the life of the Apostle Paul. "The Road to Damascus," portraying early events in Paul's career, including his consent to the martyrdom of Stephen and his conversion; "The Way of Salvation," consisting of events in Philippi; "Faith Triumphant," centering in Jerusalem concluding with the hearing before Felix and defense before Agrippa, with Paul triumphing over his foes, destined to go to Rome, according to the vision he had received.

Rev. C. S. Thompson, pastor of the Washington C. H. Methodist Circuit here and other ministers from churches in surrounding communities have been attending and taking part in these Sunday evening meetings.

and rural homes throughout the country.

"Wartime price control can work, if the people make it work, but they must know how the government is controlling the prices of the things they buy every day, and what price control is all about," Administrator Henderson said.

The leaflet was prepared by OPA and 10,000 Scout leaders in 10,000 different communities have been given the responsibility of directing the distribution campaign.

Harold Layman who is the Scout executive for this area, said the boys are doing a commendable job here.

JEFFERSONVILLE CANNING SUGAR RATIONING TIME

Deputy Board's Office To Be Opened Tuesday Evenings To Take Applications

In line with the arrangements worked out with the Fayette County Rationing Board whereby C. G. Stuckey, Jeffersonville hardware merchant, recently accepted a special appointment, without pay, to take charge of issuing all canning sugar certificates for that village and vicinity, it has been announced by the rationing organization formed to look after this matter there, that Tuesday evenings from 7 until 9 o'clock is the only period designated each week to give out these certificates.

The Stuckey hardware store is the appointed place where such certificates are being issued. Since it is understood, Stuckey says, that additional sugar for canning purposes only is available according to the amount of canning each family does, those who wish to obtain certificates are asked to apply at the time set.

During the second period of canning sugar registration from August 4 to 22 a total of 502 families were registered in the Jeffersonville community, Stuckey reported. The merchants of that village paid the expenses of

Your telephone call may be blocking a War Message

Every telephone call that is made may have an effect on our nation's war effort. Whether you call from a residential district to a downtown store, or across the state to a relative, the lines and equipment you are using are needed for vital war messages.

War traffic is so great over Long Distance lines to key cities throughout the country that many vital calls are being delayed. We cannot build additional lines and equipment because of material shortages. The only answer is for all of us to limit the use of the telephone.

4 WAYS TO DO YOUR PART

- 1 Do not make calls to key cities outside of Ohio unless they are absolutely necessary.
- 2 Plan what you want to say so the call will be brief.
- 3 Whenever possible, call by number.
- 4 Do not visit on the telephone. Make your local calls as brief as possible, and make sure that all members of your family, especially the youngsters, follow this suggestion.

NEW COAT OF PAINT HELPS DOWNTOWN AREA

The brick building on the northeast corner of Court and Fayette streets belonging to Dan McLean, which houses several of the downtown places of business, is receiving a new coat of red paint. The red is a deep and very pleasing color, and with light gray trim which is being used, it adds perceptibly to the appearance of the corner, being situated as the building is, on the main thoroughfare.
